🐈‍⬛🟦Dragocat: The Return of Auren

Friday night had settled quietly over Whiskerville when the portal suddenly shimmered blue above the forest.

Dragocat looked up from the rooftop.

He knew that glow.

A few moments later, Auren stepped through.

She smiled when she saw him, but this time there was no excitement in her eyes.

There was fear.

"Skunky," she said softly. "I need your help."

Dragocat immediately stood.

"What happened?"

Auren reached into her cloak and pulled out a small ancient scroll covered in Martian symbols.

"The second key has been stolen."

"Second key?"

"The key that opens the chamber containing the Healing Box of our people."

Dragocat's eyes narrowed.

"The Healing Box?"

Auren nodded.

"It was created long before our civilization was nearly destroyed. It can heal wounds, restore damaged cells, and perhaps even repair what Sanders' experiments took from us."

She looked toward the portal.

"But without the second key, we can't reach it."

Dragocat glanced at the glowing gateway.

"Then whoever stole that key isn't just stealing an object."

Auren's expression hardened.

"They're stealing our chance to heal."

Dragocat reached for his cape.

"Then let's find it."

From the communicator came Snowball's voice.

"Friday night just got interesting."

Dragocat smiled.

"Snowball, get the team ready."

Auren looked at him.

"Where do we start?"

Dragocat looked toward the dark streets of Blackthorn City.

"Wherever someone was foolish enough to steal from Mars..."

He spread his wings.

"...they left a trail."

And somewhere in the shadows of Whiskerville...

someone was already watching them. 🌙🔑✨

To be continued, stay tuned!!

🐾🟦INSPECTOR SKUNKY LUKE: CASE #21
🔑THE MISSING SECOND KEY
The Healing Box of Mars

🌙THE ADVENTURE CONTINUES...

Whiskerville's detectives have been searching for days.

The second key is still missing.

The key that leads to the Healing Box of Auren and Xavier's people on Mars.

And for once, even Inspector Skunky Luke is running out of answers.

His first key hangs around his neck.

The compass refuses to reveal anything.

Snowball, Bandit, Peter, Sandi, Sherri, Sandy, Scout, and Barley have searched every clue they can find.

Even Mr. Squibbles and the squirrels are baffled.

🦦Mr. Squibbles hasn't even been able to write a proper report!

"Inspector Skunky, I regret to inform you that the evidence has become... extremely uncooperative."

But tonight, something changes.

🐉A RECAP OF LAST FRIDAY'S DRAGOCAT ADVENTURE

The Echo Beneath Whiskerville.

The hidden space tunnel was disturbed. A lost Martian Orb was discovered deep within the mountain, stolen years ago by the late Dr. Sanders.

The Orb was the heart of Auren and Xavier's civilization.

With the Orb returned to Mars, their people regained hope, and the portal between Earth and Mars remained open.

Bandit survived the mountain collapse but suffered a broken leg. Xavier stayed behind in Whiskerville to help him recover.

The worlds are now connected.

But Dr. Sanders left behind more than secrets.

One key is still missing.

🔍TONIGHT'S CASE: FOUR SUSPECTS

After days of searching, the team uncovers four individuals who may know something about the missing key.

Two are from Whiskerville.

Two are NOT FROM THIS WORLD. 👽

And each has a reason to be questioned.

🐾SUSPECT #1: THE CLOCKMAKER

A mysterious visitor who appeared near the old clock tower. He claims he found an unusual metal fragment but refuses to say where.

👽SUSPECT #2: THE STARBOUND TRAVELER

A stranger who arrived through the space portal. His records contain a symbol matching the markings on the missing key.

🐾SUSPECT #3: THE TUNNEL KEEPER

A Whiskerville resident who knows the underground passages better than anyone. He insists nobody has entered the sealed tunnels.

👽SUSPECT #4: THE MARTIAN EXILE

A visitor from Auren and Xavier's world who claims to have been searching for something stolen from their people.

But why did they come to Earth?

And what do they know about the Healing Box?

🧩THE CLUES

🔑CLUE #1: The first key around Skunky's neck grows warm whenever the second key is nearby.

🧭CLUE #2: The compass points toward the space tunnel but stops turning at a specific location.

🐾CLUE #3: A strange paw-shaped marking has been discovered near an old Whiskerville passage.

👽CLUE #4: Someone has been using the portal without reporting their travels.

🌙CLUE #5: A faint blue light has been spotted beneath the town every night since Auren's last visit.

The Healing Box could restore life and health to Auren and Xavier's people.

But if the wrong person finds it first, the consequences could reach both worlds.

Dragocat must solve this case before the key disappears forever.

🎯DETECTIVES, IT'S YOUR TURN!

WHO DO YOU THINK STOLE THE SECOND KEY?

🅰 The Clockmaker
